Find your articles

- Enter your keyword/s or search term/s in the Advanced Search boxes. Keywords are important words that describe your subject. You need to work out your keyword/s before you start searching.

- Use the Boolean operators (and, or, not) to combine keywords. You can refine your search using the features: 'Search Within' and/or 'Date Range'. 'Search Within' allows you to specify in which journals you want to search. We recommend leaving it on 'SAGE Journals Available to Me'. 'Date Range' enables you to limit your search to a particular date range. In the 'Format Results' area, you can set the number of results you want to see per page and how you want them sorted.
